Now, the fact of which our cotempora ry complains is that the negroes don't, any of them, vote the Democratic ticket; they shun it as it it had the small-pox. And Recause they are intelligent enough to understand the consequences to themselves that would follow the success of that party. The elector who knows how to vote so as to protect his rights has precisely the kind of intelligence that qualifies him to wield the ballot; and that the negroes do know this the Register, and its platform furnish the proof. The fact that the negroes almost universally vote the Republican ticket is, therefore, the best evidence of their fitness to vote. If they voted the Democratic ticket, we should have to doubt either their intelligence or their sanity.

Of course, all understand that what ails the Register in this matter is, sour grapes. If the negroes would vote the Democratic ticket they would be most intelligent and discriminating citizens. They do this to some extent in Louisiana, and there they get special, invitations to, sit in the Democratic Conventions. Circumstances alter cases sometimes most amaz-

Mr. Bingham's Re-Election

The re-election of Hon. John A. Bing-nam in the 16th District, by an increased majority, is one of the most gratifying results of the campaign Mr. Bingham, detested by the Democratic party, for his ability as a party leader, is the special object of Democratic hatred. Two years ject of Democratic hatred. Two years ago the ablest, opponent, and perhaps the most popular Democrat in the district, was nominated to oppose Mr. Bingham. Money was spent treely, the press of Money was spent Treely; the press of the apposition teemed with abuse and false statements, and by every artifice imagmable his defeat was sought. false statements, and by every artifice imaginable his 'Kdefeat was sought.' Politicians from this county were imported to aid in the one grand object of the Democracy of the 16th district—the defeat of Bingham. The result is known. After an exciting canvass, Mr. Bingham was elected by 416 majority. Again this fall the work of deteating Bingham was elected by the nutring the country of the cou Bingham was attempted; by putting against him Robert E. Chambers, a Belmont county man, unknown except for his opposition to the federal government during the war. A man interior to Mr. Estep in ability and principle; and the result has been even more disastrous to the Democracy—Mr. Blugham's majority; being nearly if not altogether 500.
